IT Governance Ecosystem: Cathy Curley, Office of the CIO, George DiGiacomo, Division of Student Affairs, William Manspeaker, Taubman College, David Sweetman, LSA, and Matt Walters, School of Social Work, make up a subcommittee to help identify what is needed to make information technology services work better for the university.

The subcommittee focused on how things are currently set up (current state) and identified three areas of focus to improve the future direction of information technology services: Community, IT Governance, and Innovation. These topics spurred good discussion among the committee for improving clarity and sustainability of the IT governance ecosystem.

Roundtable: Matt Walters will have a split appointment with Information and Technology Services (75%) and School of Social Work (25%) beginning August 1, 2015.
